

June 15, 2005

UWSP faculty promoted in rank and granted tenure

Twenty-one faculty members at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point have been promoted in rank and eighteen of the designees plus three other faculty members have been granted tenure by the UW System Board of Regents.

Promoted from associate to full professor, the highest faculty rank, were Lucinda Thayer of music, Gary Mullins of business and economics, Marcia Parker of foreign languages, Justin Rueb of psychology, Bryant Browne, John Houghton and Joseph Passineau of natural resources, Perry Cook of education, Gary Cumley of communicative disorders and James Ramsey of health promotion and human development.

Promoted from assistant professor to associate professor were Susan Morrison of art and design, Kevin Bahr, Tracy Hofer and Christopher Marshall of business and economics, Daniel Breining of foreign languages, Wade Mahon of English, John Blakeman and Michelle Brophy-Baermann of political science, Walter LoFaro of mathematics and computing, and Colleen Evans-Fletcher of health, exercise science and athletics.

Promotion authority is held at the campus level.

Tenure status, granted by the UW Regents, was given to Morrison, Bahr, Breining, Hinaus, Hofer, Mahon, Marshall, Brophy-Baermann, Evans-Fletcher, Bradley Hinaus of physics and astronomy and Ruth-Wachter Nelson of the University Library.