

I want to take a moment and thank all those individuals that give their time and PASSION to this organization, to only hear us advisors complain and moan about your efforts and how you choose to do things! I often find myself giving out those complaints, not meaning to be hurtful or spiteful, but I know forums and emails do not necessarily express our gestures and smiles and caring and gratitude!

I Challenge ALL of us advisors, for every complaint that we give, every negative change we demand, every pushy item we write on this forum, to give ONE positive comment to SOMEONE in this post!

My comment (for the two posts today :) I have seen some WONDERFUL things come from the Electrathon Board and Dave Doerings efforts this past couple years! My comment is in AWW of how willing they are open to change for the benefit of the students! I applaud that open-mindedness and am grateful my students are recipients of your hard work!

Jesse Domer, Watertown High School
www.GoslingElectric.com

I am very appreciative in many ways for this forum! I look at many forums out there that do not get up and running because of lack of participation or interest and I see how this forum flourishes with passion and knowledge. I am grateful that we as advisors are able to throw comments/suggestions/questions out for other advisors AND the B.O.D. to review and reply or take in.

Thank you for keeping this forum available.

Jesse Domer, Watertown High School
www.GoslingElectric.com

Thanks Jessie, I appreciate the comments. I think we are at a point here with the rules that we'll just have to go with it. New ideas for rule changes will have to wait for next year.

I can't speak for the board but, my e-mails and time on the rule changes has quadrupled from the years past. Trying to balance this with a full time teaching job grades 6-12, family, and a passion for bow hunting, fishing, skiing and camping has been difficult (notice I put family first!).

If advisors are concerned about the future direction of the WE organization then I suggest getting involved - which many of you have with the formation of the Wi Supermileage Association. Next year I hope you can get your ideas and others as well to fit into a package.

For now let's go with these rules support them and keep this organization growing - providing great opportunities for teachers and students to get excited about education and the future of our transportation.

---

Thank you for the updated rules. It is nice to see the discussion was seriously considered and changes were made. Look forward to seeing you all at RA.

Damon

What a great event once again!!! My students were very excited before and after the event. The weather came around and was generous to us.

Thank you Sara, Erick, Amy and the rest of the Electrathon Volunteers for all your time and effort in supporting our students and schools! We are looking forward to hopefully warmer weather this coming weekend at R.A.

It is soo great to see how much Electrathon is growing in the state, though we do understand the task you undertake to pull this together. Please be sure to assign 1-3 advisors this coming weekend at FVTC to be your "Gofers" so that you can concentrate better on running your event. Anything we can do on the day of to help you out Sara, just tell us! Many of us bring Parents to watch over our students which frees us as advisors up to walk away from our pits/teams/cars for the day.

Great Job and Keep it up :)

Jesse Domer, Watertown High School
www.GoslingElectric.com